PHILADELPHIA (CBS) — Philadelphia’s roving Water Bar kicked off the Delaware River Competition on Saturday morning with a obvious toast. Ingesting faucet water and conserving the Delaware River trim had been the subject matters of the day at Penn’s Touchdown.

Identical events had been also held on Saturday at Wiggins Waterfront Park in Camden, Contemporary Jersey.

For the following month, programs will be supplied to coach the public on the importance of the river to the atmosphere.

Listed below are some events scheduled for the comfort of the month:

Petty’s Island history hike

When: Saturday, Sept. 14, 9: 30 a.m. to 12: 30 p.m.

Where: Contemporary Jersey Pure Lands Belief at Petty’s Island
